Olathe West Pre-Ap Summer Reading Assignment
Hello, future Pre-AP 10th graders! We are excited you’ve chosen to continue to challenge yourself academically in Language Arts, and we can’t wait to meet you this fall. However, between now and then, we’d like to emphasize the importance of you becoming students who read a wide variety of texts both critically and analytically. We’d like you to stay in this practice over the summer as well, so that you can engage texts with a critical eye when we begin our coursework in the fall semester. We also hope that your work over the summer can provide a meaningful transition into the Pre-AP English 10 coursework. The following assignment has been designed with those thoughts in mind.

Step One: Choose a book
Listed below are your choices for summer reading. You may pick any one book on this list (or multiple books, if you’re feeling ambitious), but keep in mind, the books have been selected for their common thread—they have all, for one reason or another, been banned from being read or shelved in schools and/or libraries at one time. Because of the nature of some of these texts, please have a discussion with your family about which book will best suit you. We would like you to grapple with new (and sometimes controversial) ideas, but we by no means want a book to be offensive to you or your family. We encourage this conversation between students and parents. Please see the last page of this packet and have your parent/guardian sign off on your chosen book.

Book Options:
Listed below are many options for your summer assignment. Please choose a book that suits you, but also interests you. And never, ever pick or avoid a book based on page numbers. Some of the hardest books are short; some of the best books are long. Use Goodreads, Amazon, New York Times reviews, etc. to pick a book that sounds interesting and engaging.

The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night Time by Mark Haddon
The Lovely Bones by Alice Sebold
The Lord of the Rings by J.R.R. Tolkien
One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest by Ken Kesey
Slaughterhouse Five by Kurt Vonnegut
Anne Frank: The Diary of a Young Girl by Anne Frank

Step Two: Record Significant Quotes

As you read your book, we must insist that you enjoy the experience of reading the book first and foremost. No, really. We want you to have a positive experience reading the book. But being that this is a summer assignment, we'd like to see what your experience reading the book was like via evidence of your active reading. To this end, we'd like you to record noteworthy quotes that are significant to your reading of the text. Please keep in mind that these quotes need to hold some importance to the work. You will be asked to use these quotes for a later portion of the assignment, so they need to be truly noteworthy. You are required to record a total of 10 quotes for this assignment. Each quote and explanation will be worth 3 points a piece for a total of 60 points. Consider the following format for recording your quotes, and feel free to mark multiple boxes:
Quote 1:
(3 pts.)

Reason(s) this is noteworthy:
- I felt like this was an epiphany ("ah-ha") moment that made the book's theme or argument more clear to me.
- I was able to make a personal connection between my own life and the idea in this passage.
- This reminds me of another idea or example that I have read in another work or class.
- I found the language or the phrasing of this passage to be beautiful or powerful.
- I was confused by this passage and needed further explanation/research in order to understand the passage.
- This quote made me grapple with a new/controversial idea/perspective that I hadn't considered before.

Analysis of quote's significance (to the overall book/message/argument/theme):
(3 pts.)

After recording a quote, please analyze the importance of the quote to the book and its overall message/argument/theme. You should be able to justify recording this quote given the reasons above, and we’d like to see you demonstrate your ability to think critically about the quotes that stand out to you. Originality and depth of thought are most important here.

Step Three: Argue the Merit of Your Book

We would like you to use the quotes you collected from your book to argue for the merit of your book. This essay is purely based on your experience and opinions, but we would like you to argue a position in response to the following, using quotes from your book and analysis of your book:

To what extent should schools be allowed/expected to censor books and curriculum?

Essential Questions to consider:
- On what grounds could your choice book be banned from school curriculum?
- Would you recommend that your book be widely read? Should it be included in a school curriculum? On a school library shelf? Why/why not?
- In what ways do books potentially destabilize or undermine authority?
- What are the moral and ethical dilemmas surrounding censorship in schools?
- Should schools be allowed to remove books considered vulgar or controversial from the school library?
- Should schools censor books taught in their classrooms? Is there a difference between books offered as choice options and books selected for whole class reading?
- Should parents be allowed to censor books for high school students?

Our goal with this assignment is to encourage students to read highly engaging novels throughout the summer in preparation for Pre-AP/Honors English 10. In addition, students are expected to show evidence of their reading and critical thinking through written components. Such reading and writing experiences are critical to the success of those on the track to advanced placement, dual credit, and college enrollment. We look forward to the fall when we can build on the thinking inspired by their summer work!

Prior to enrollment in Pre-AP/Honors English 10, we ask that parents sign this form signifying their understanding and acceptance of the summer reading responsibilities required at Olathe West. Please submit this form to the current English 9 teacher by the end of the school year.

- I have read the summer reading assignment and understand the reading requirement.
- I have reviewed and discussed the list of choice books with my student.
- I understand that completing the summer reading requirement is a prerequisite for enrollment in Pre-AP 10. Students who do not complete satisfactory work will begin the year at a deficit and will be responsible for improving their grades as the semester continues, with no guarantees.
- I understand that all written work is to be presented formally on the first Monday of school (Monday, August 20th).
- I understand that all work is expected to be the original work of the student. Plagiarism will be dealt with according to OW policy.
- I am aware that my instructors are available via email throughout the summer.
