The assassination of John F. Kennedy took place over 35 years ago. But, one question is still being asked today: did Lee Harvey Oswald act alone or was there a conspiracy? This paper will discuss the Warren Report and the conspiracy theory.

Introduction

Gives either:
- Background events
- Sets the stage for the paper
Introduction # 1

Holocaust

In Germany before 1933 every thing was peaceful. Jews played with Germans and went to school with them, until Adolf Hitler gained power. Hitler hated the Jews so much he banned them from going to school with German people and talking to them. Jewish shops started to close down and Jews were not being treated right. Hitler thought that the Jews were a threat to his perfect “Superior Aryan Race”. This is why the Holocaust was started. This paper will discuss the Auschwitz concentration camp, medical experiments, and killing methods that were used during the Holocaust.

One of the many concentration camps was Auschwitz which was located in Poland. Auschwitz was a death camp and one of the worst concentration camps. It was built in 1940 in a suburb called Oswiecim, but the name was changed to Auschwitz. The men that helped Adolf Hitler run the concentration camps were called SS officers. Jews began arriving at the camp in cattle cars. When they arrived they saw a sign on the front of the gate that says Arbeit Macht Frei which means Work Brings Freedom. When they got inside, men, women and children were separated. Young children and weak or older adults had very few chances to survive. Most people didn’t even get to Auschwitz because they were sent to the gas chamber right away. The ones who were chosen to go to the gas chamber were forced to give the SS men their valuables and to undress. Sometimes they were not sent to the gas
Introduction #2

Courage, faith, and will. That was the only way the 16 year old girl named Joan stayed alive when she led the war for the French. With her voices guiding her, she gave France hope when it seemed there was none. This paper will discuss Joan’s voices, her meeting the Dauphin, how she was captured and eventually killed.

At age 13 Joan danced in her father’s garden with friends. At noon, hot and tired, she fell underneath a tree to rest. A bright light appeared and a voice spoke to her. She saw St. Michael and several angels. The voices told her to live a good life and go to church often. After that day the voices spoke to her two or three times each week. At first her voices’ instructions were very basic. Later St. Michael gave her a much more specific message. When she was sixteen he said, “Go, go daughter of God, into the realm of France. You must drive out the English and bring the king to be crowned.” Joan was terrified. She explained that she was just a poor maid and knew nothing of war. He just answered, “God will help you.” Obeying her voices had never been so difficult. Her friends would often tease her and her parents would not allow her to leave. But, the voices were appearing to her more than ever and encouraging her to